THE CAPSIZING OF THE . CAPE CITY" AT NAGASAKI. The Rising Sun says :- One of the saddest and most unfortunate accidents that it has ever been our duty to obronicle occurred in this harbour on Monday afternoon, the 21st Beptember. We refer, of course, to the capsizing of the British barque Caps City during a dead calm, and the drowning of the captain's wife and the second officer. The Cape City. Capt. Whetherall. an iron vessel of 439 tons register, owned by Messrs. Hopkins, Dunn & Co., of Bhanghai, arrived here from that port at non on Sunday last, in ballast; consigned to Chinese, and anchored off Tategami. The discharging of the ballast was commenced on Mount y morning, and finished about 4 o'clock the same afternoon. In the meantime, men had been set to scrub the outside of the ship as far down as the water would allow. From what we can lears, the ship was purchased with a certificate to the effect that she would stand up without ballast, and only recently is said to have been dooked in Shangliai in that condition without showing any signs of being dangeronaly "orank," consequently no fears, were entertained for her safety by the captain; but, at the same time, the wisdom of emptying a ship before the sargo was even alongside, aspecially at this trencherous season of the year. is certainly open to question. Apparently every. thing went well until about four o'clock, when she took a strong list to starboard and about fifteen minutes later she suddenly capezed. All on beard were, we believe, on deck at the time, the captain and his wife standing close together. They were thrown into the water, and as soon as the accident happened a number of sampans rushed to the scene, but, sad to relate, on mustering the rescued it was four d that the captain's wife and the officer were missing. Diligent search for them was continued, and the Mitsu Bishi Co. diving barge came post hasts to render every possible. I had turned over quite spaddonly on her side with a loud splash, shewing her keel as she did so. She remained on her side, with portions of her yards showing along the water, for about 11 minutes. During that time I fetched my opera glasses, and with their aid could see people struz-gling in the water. While I was looking. the ship turned slowly over and sank entirely disaptearing from sight. It seemed to me that several of the people in the water were drawn down with the ship. About half a minute after she went out of night, her maste reappeared.
